

Hello

Web/Microservices Developer!

📍 Thessaloniki

Do you want to develop first class products with state-of-the-art technology which are user friendly and also look cool? Then we should definitely get to know each other! We develop user-centred and design-driven software and hardware products for global market leaders and those who want to become one.

— Your tasks

- In our highly agile development team, you will create innovative applications for customers of international renown.
- You will use the latest technologies and experience variety in the implementation of different target systems, ranging from mobile devices to the control of machines.
- In interdisciplinary exchange with our UX and UI experts, you will accompany the development process from conception to release, implement new features and support the product with your ideas and creativity.
- In addition, as an experienced and committed developer, you will be actively involved in the development of the software architecture.

— Your profile

- Experience with common software architectures, communication protocols, automated testing, agile development methods and notation standards.
- Comprehensive understanding of software technologies and patterns.
- In-depth knowledge of NodeJs, TypeScript, React, and developing in a microservice architecture.
- Experience in cloud computing (AWS, Azure, Cloud Foundry).
- Open-mindedness towards new technologies and development environments.
- Experience in large software projects, continuous integration and continuous deployment.
- Very good command of written and spoken English, ideally also of German.

— What we offer you

- At UXMA, we work with state-of-the-art tools and technologies in an agile, method- and process-oriented way.
- For our customers, such as BSH Hausgeräte, Bosch and CLAAS, we work with total commitment and great enthusiasm on a wide range of varied and exciting projects.
- We offer you flexible working hours and options to work remotely.
- Competitive salary.
- 5 extra vacation days.
- In our own academy you can engage in professional development, both internally and externally, and even get extra time to do so.
- We are located in Germany (Kiel, Dresden, Hamburg) and Greece (Thessaloniki) and work for our clients internationally.

— What we value

- We're better together! We prefer to work interdisciplinary, experienced & young and across locations.
- Appreciation is important to us, as is leadership at eye level and an active feedback culture.
- We think it's great to try out new things and to question what currently exists!
That's the only way we can move forward.
- We never say 'can't! We find a solution for (almost) everything.
- We like to learn in order to become better. Even from our mistakes. Many a great UXMA idea has come out of this.
- We are diverse and colorful. With us, you can make friends for life.
- We like to start the working day and the weekend with a smile.
